EDITORIAL

We want our new brand shop magazine to capture the spirit of STIHL.

We have always been associated with nature - that is where we find our strength. At the same time, these days we can no longer imagine a life that features no urban spaces.

Where do you go to find the power to grow?

There's no growth without strong roots. It is not only with our new Heritage collection that we are going back to the roots - and reflecting the spirit of the times again as we do so. Our motto for 2020 is: Let it grow. That means growing in ourselves, and letting those beside us thrive too - whatever happens, we're ready.

Join us on a journey of discovery and get to know a whole new side of TIMBERSPORTS®FAN, WILD KIDS, URBAN, STRONG ROOTS, the BRAND COLLECTION and our promotional items. On these pages you'll find everything a STIHL devotee could want.

We are fans. Are you, too?

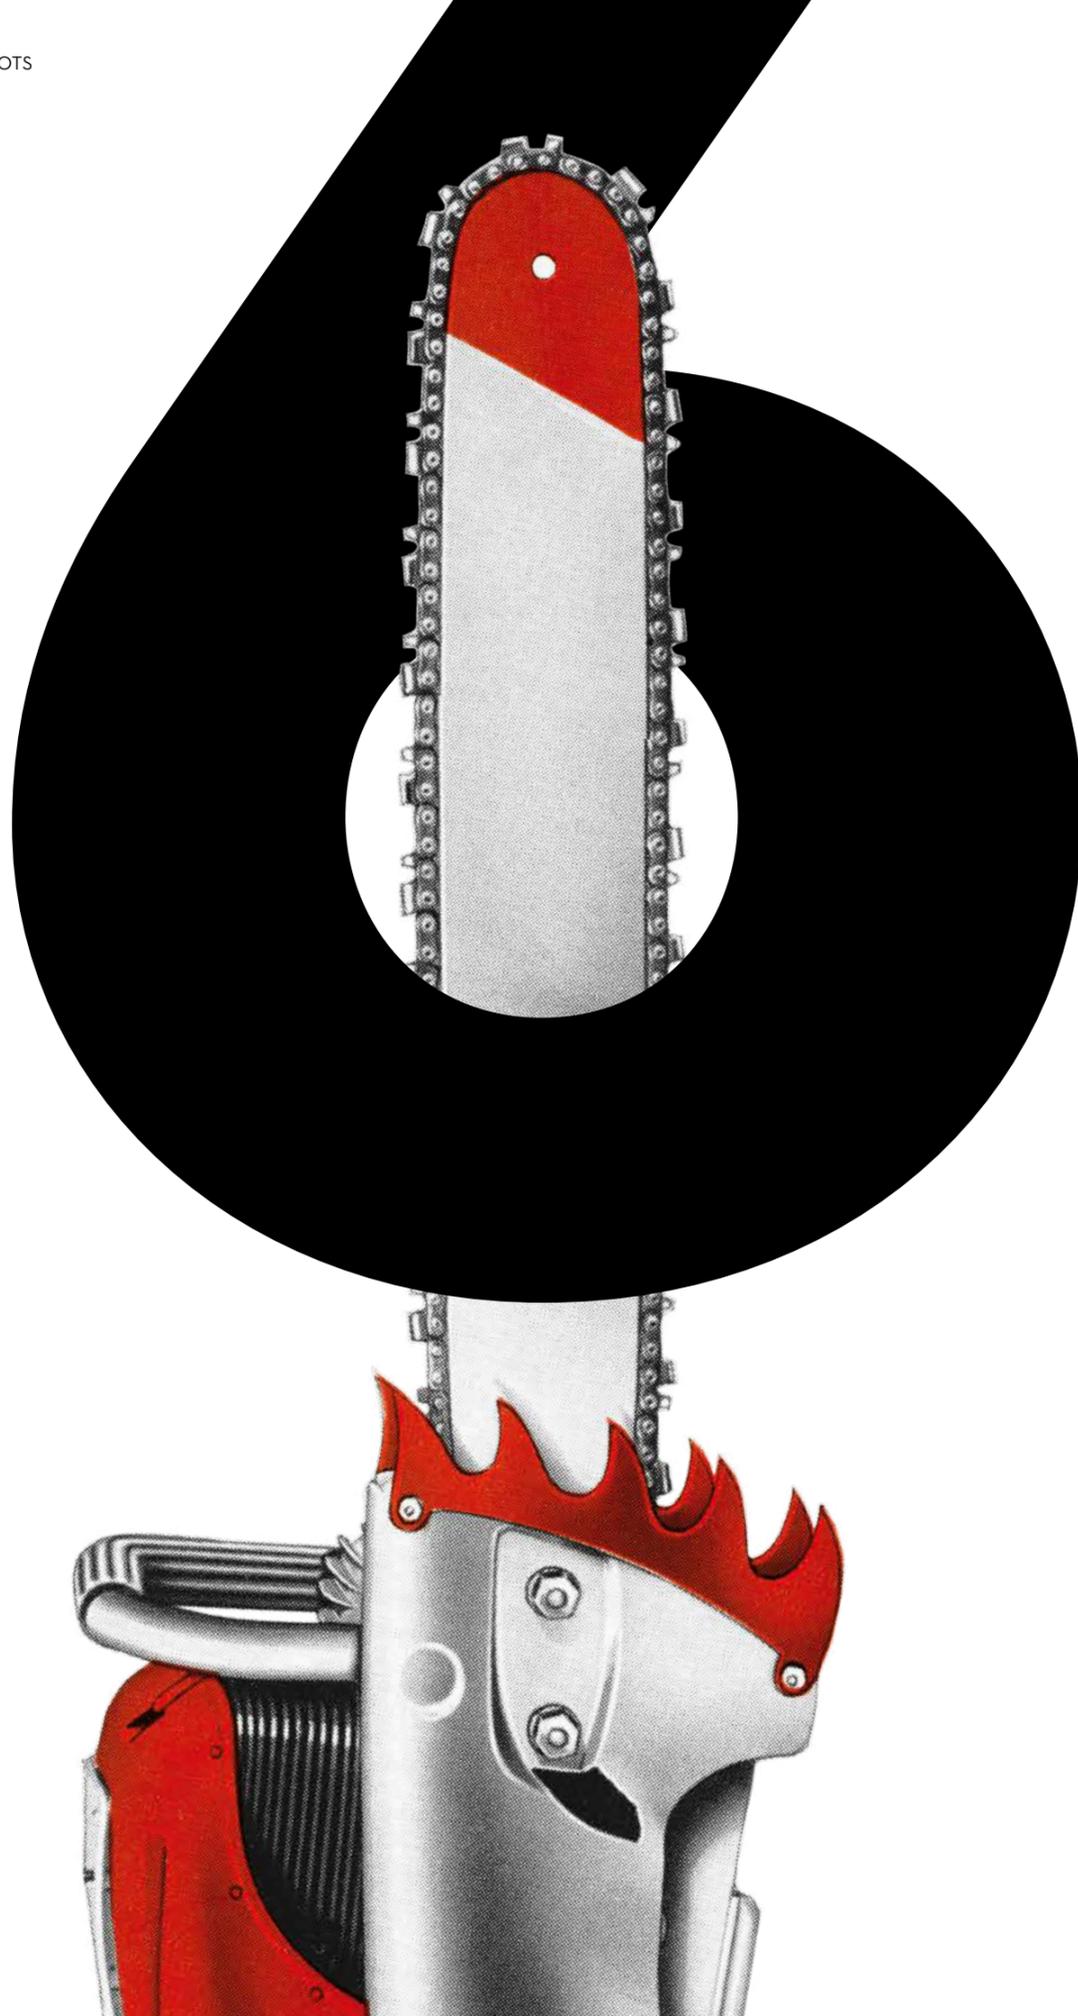

Your STIHL brand shop team

STRONG

In designing STRONG ROOTS, we have been inspired by nature; it uses natural materials and colours and is a robust and uncomplicated range for indoors and out. The collection authentically and straightforwardly pays homage to our roots.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, CONTRA

We celebrated 60 years of the Contra in 2019. The launch of the first gearless one-person chainsaw was a real milestone – both in forestry and for the STIHL company as a whole. We have developed a unique collection to specifically honour the legendary saw and mark its anniversary. The selected styles are derived from original materials and cuts from 1959 – the year the Contra was born.

Engineer Andrea Stihl had a particular vision when he founded his company in 1926: “To ease people’s work with and in nature”. The STIHL Contra was the masterpiece that took his creed into the world with enormous success from 1959, coming to market 30 years after the first STIHL two-person petrol-driven chainsaw.

200% MORE PRODUCTIVITY

The 1959 arrival of the Contra revolutionised forestry work from top to bottom. Andreas Stihl had invented a technological masterpiece: a gearless, one-person petrol-driven chainsaw that made working in forests significantly easier. It was equipped with a chipper-tooth chain and a diaphragm carburettor that could be used in any position. The chainsaw could be pivoted in any direction the user required, without having to manually change settings. What's more, a compact and streamlined design meant the new saw weighed in at just 12 kg, while simultaneously being more efficient than its predecessors, offering engine performance of 6 hp (4.4 kW) and a maximum speed of 7,000 rotations per minute. The innovative new model enabled forestry operations to increase their productivity by 200%, setting a new standard for chainsaws.

THE BEGINNING OF A SUCCESS STORY

It didn't take long for the Contra to gain recognition as the one-person petrol-powered chainsaw with the highest cutting performance on the market – not just in Germany, but worldwide. The Contra's success ushered in a new era at STIHL, helping the company achieve a double-digit increase in revenue. It enabled STIHL to grow, and to expand its capacities. In the years that followed, the company would build new production facilities and an entirely new plant in Waiblingen; over the next ten years, the company's workforce grew from roughly 640 employees in 1959 to over 1,500 in 1969. STIHL has been the best-selling chainsaw brand in the world since 1971.

NON-STOP INNOVATION

Building on the foundation of the Contra, STIHL has continuously achieved improvements in the safety, ergonomics, environmental friendliness, and performance of its chainsaws. The anti-vibration system was first built into the Contra in 1965, followed later by the QuickStop chain brake, catalytic converters and various developments for reducing emissions, and ultimately the launch of cordless technology that came ten years ago. The latest leap forward is STIHL Injection technology, as featured in the STIHL MS 500i, making it the world's first series-production chainsaw to include electronic fuel injection. That's true innovation.

A STIHL STORY OF SUCCESS

2 THE RESULT

12 kg manageable weight
6 hp extra-powerful cutting performance

1 TECHNICAL INNOVATIONS

- + Gearless
- + Diaphragm carburettor
- + Chipper-tooth chain

3 THE EFFECT

STIHL revolutionised forestry work in 1959 with the launch of the Contra.

4 THE SUCCESS

STIHL achieves double-digit increase in sales and strong growth.

AHEAD OF ITS TIME

The Contra started out ahead of its time, and it has been continually refined and adapted to new requirements. Later generations such as the STIHL MS 500i - currently the most advanced chainsaw in the world - still share one thing with their ancestor to this day: the aspiration to be a cut above the rest.

CONTRA LIGHTNING JACKET

The inner lining printed with an exploded drawing of the saw is a truly striking feature of this jacket designed specially for the anniversary. The jacket with teddy collar and premium brass buttons is reminiscent of the worker style from the year the Contra was born. The Contra will always be an icon - and not just for collectors: we know of a few loyal customers whose Contra saws are simply still running.

LET'S GO!

OUR RECOMMENDATION FOR AN ACTION-PACKED WEEKEND IN REMSTAL

Although you'll pass more than one of our factories on this fantastic tour, the mills along the way are the real highlight. While this family-friendly hike can be completed all year round, it is perhaps at its most beautiful as spring turns into summer, when the fruit trees are in full bloom. The route starts at Bürgerzentrum Waiblingen citizens' centre, following the Rems river to the Hegnacher Mühle mill, and back to the Bürgerzentrum via Das Schmidener Feld.

- Bus stop
- Eating & drinking
- Sight
- Mills
- Starting point

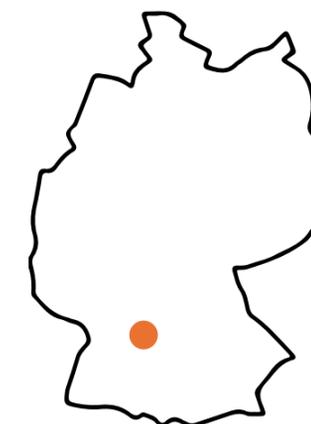

Bürgerzentrum
An der Talaue 4
71334 Waiblingen

Length:
11.7 km

Duration:
3:31 h

Lowest point:
298 m above sea level

Highest point:
215 m above sea level

There's plenty to see on this round trip, and some of the mills have their own small restaurants that you can pop into for a bite to eat. The hiking trail starts directly next to the Rems river, at the location of the Bürgerzentrum (citizens' centre) for STIHL's home town of Waiblingen. There's good reason for this route to be known as the Waiblinger Mühlenweg (Waiblingen mills path): it runs from Geheime Mühle mill in Beinstein and Hahnsche Mühle mill to Hegnacher Mühle mill.

This destination in the heart of the idyllic Unteres Remstal (Lower Rems Valley) nature reserve is beautifully situated at a slight distance from the Rems, and an old mill canal connects Hegnacher Mühle with the river. The grain mill is surrounded by fields of wheat, rye and spelt, and has been in operation since the 19th century. It has also had its own farm shop stocked with excellent regional products for just over 30 years. The mill shop is open until 5pm on weekdays and until 12:30pm on Saturdays. Take the opportunity to enjoy a fascinating mill tour, for a lively insight into the work performed here.

Vogelmühle mill, which you will pass, has its own small bakehouses, and is also home to an art gallery.

And if you reach the end of the tour still wanting more, we recommend a visit to the Stihl Waiblingen Gallery, a renowned art venue that hosts three temporary exhibitions every year, and which specialises in works on paper and made from paper. Hungry travellers can enjoy a delicious pizza at Cafe Disegno next door.

SURVIVAL HACKS

Don't have the right tool to hand? And you're miles from anywhere? More often than not there is a solution available - you just have to know how to find it. These smart tricks help us to directly solve small problems with the aid of simple everyday objects, even when we're on the move.

KEEP IT DRY WITH CHAPSTICK

It's so annoying when it starts to rain and you discover your zips aren't leaktight! Here's how to stop water getting into your clothes and bags for longer: smear the zip of your jacket or backpack with lip balm - it's best to press really hard so that the waxy substance is pushed into the gaps and seals them. This trick also works well with hair wax or candle wax.

BLUNT KNIFE? JUST FLIP UP YOUR COFFEE CUP

Even the best knives get blunt with time. You can fix that using a fantastic impromptu sharpening stone: the rough surface on the bottom edge of a porcelain or ceramic coffee cup, created by the firing process. What to do: wet the blade, draw the flat side over the bottom edge of the cup at a very slight angle, and repeat approximately ten times on each side. Just apply slight pressure on the blunt side of the blade, and your problem will be solved in no time!

MULTI-FUNCTION KNIFE

A practical all-rounder: well-thought-out multi-function knife, by knife specialist Victorinox, includes everything you need on your travels. This knife includes a screwdriver, bottle opener, corkscrew, cap lifter, and wire stripper, as well as a piercing awl, boring awl, sewing awl, and a small wood saw.

PRINTS, PATCHES & BADGES

Quality is in the details: we have provided each product with lovingly designed elements that make them unique.

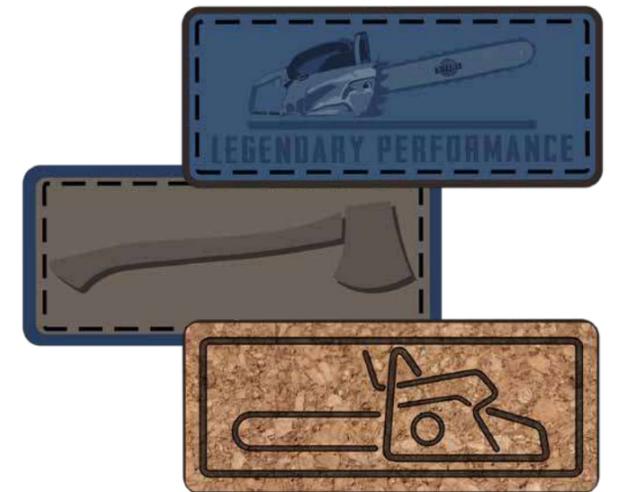

With the Heritage edition, part of our STRONG ROOTS collection, we are reviving some historical logos and lettering designs. We have deliberately chosen not to use modern prints, and instead rely on traditionally woven goods. In addition, we are using natural materials such as cork.

The CHAINSAW badge is our new icon that will be a permanent fixture of the collection. This symbol is adopted from the classic STIHL design. A subtle tribute to your favourite tool.

Legendary Performance since 1926: above as a woven label on the interior, and on the right as a badge made of cork, which mainly appears as an exterior label.

Clothing and accessories can be customized in an instant with our new badges, some of which come in interchangeable sets. From top to bottom: chainsaw print, embroidery on canvas, embossed cork.

BRAND COLLECTION

The BRAND COLLECTION is an ideal way for young and older fans alike to be loud and proud about their love of STIHL. T-shirts, accessories and cool novelties mean that even when you're chilling out, you can proclaim your allegiance to STIHL.

SIMPLE BANANA BREAD

HOW TO MAKE IT

Preheat oven to 180 degrees (fan oven: 160 degrees). Mash the bananas in a bowl, with a fork. Use a knife to cut the vanilla pod open lengthwise, and use the back of the knife to scrape the seeds out. Whisk oil with brown sugar and eggs. Mix together the flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and vanilla; stir this mixture into the oil and egg mixture. Stir in the bananas. Place the dough into a well-greased tin and bake in the preheated oven for around 55 minutes.

TIP: Add a few chopped walnuts or pieces of chocolate to the dough to add a special flavour to the banana bread.

CHAINSAW BAKING TIN

With this baking tin you can whip up sweet, chainsaw-shaped cakes in no time. The interior coating ensures nothing gets burnt onto the tin. Material: Carbon steel with interior coating. Heat-resistant up to 220 degrees. Not dishwasher-safe.

Why are bananas curved?

Banana trees are herbaceous perennials from which flowers hang in bunches and later become bananas. As the fruits increase in number and weight, the bunch is pulled further down; because bananas grow upwards and are always reaching for the sun, they end up curved. Fun fact: The banana is a berry!

JACQUES LEMANS X STIHL

Two brands with a shared passion for precision. We have been working with watch specialist Jacques Lemans for many years, as our companies are both driven by a desire for top quality and workmanship. Jacques Lemans is also one of the sponsors of our TIMBERSPORTS® series. We have collaborated closely with them to develop three wristwatches and a wall clock.

Jacques Lemans watches are characterised by first-class workmanship, longevity, innovative technology and an elegant look. At Jacques Lemans, everything comes from a single source: from the initial idea and final design, to production, marketing and distribution. This company's success story started in Austria, and though it operates in more than 120 countries today, it still remains true to its roots in Carinthia. Jacques Lemans works entirely independently, as the company is 100% family-owned.

STIHL is also an international operation. STIHL has been known as the best-selling chainsaw brand in the world since 1971. Since it was founded over 90 years ago, our company has grown from a one-man band to a globally active manufacturer of chainsaws and power tools for forestry, agriculture, landscape maintenance, the construction industry and demanding private users. What connects us to Jacques Lemans? At STIHL too, our own expertise and meticulous attention to detail result in a wide and constantly growing product range. Oscar-winning actor Kevin Costner has been the international face of Jacques Lemans for many years, in a partnership that embodies much of the company spirit. The collaboration was born when Alfred and Andrea Riedl attended the World Ski Cup in Schladming, Austria, in 2012. The World Cup programme included a performance by an American country band called Modern West, fronted by none other than Hollywood actor Kevin Costner, who played in the band as a hobby. The Riedls and Costner met and became friends, over the course of a long conversation about God and the world, music, acting, sport and eventually, watches; it emerged that the global star is also a watch enthusiast with plenty of expertise in chronometers. They quickly agreed to work together in future, and have now enjoyed many years of collaboration.

DISCOVERED IN CAPE TOWN: REVOLUTION RECORDS

The shoot for our new Urban collection took us to Cape Town, where we discovered one of the city's hidden gems in a small alley: Revolution Records, one of the few remaining old-school record stores.

FIRST & SECOND HAND VINYL AND CDS

Revolution Records and its fantastic selection is a firm fixture of the Cape Town music scene. Alongside well-chosen rock and pop classics, there are rare treasures by Ella Fitzgerald, Sarah Vaughan and Louis Armstrong to be found here. One of the few old-school record stores, Revolution Records offers a huge selection of CDs and records. It also sells new and used pressings, which are coveted by enthusiastic collectors nationwide.

GET INSPIRED: BLOGGERS ON THEIR PICKS

We can visit Viktoria and Hanna on Instagram every day, and give us a fascinating insight into their different worlds. Professional tree climber Viktoria Carstens is a nature freak and animal rights activist who likes to get her hands dirty, and is also an official STIHL brand ambassador. Hanna Deuss is a model who loves yoga and tattoos. When it comes to fashion, both of them are into sporty style. Here they talk to us about their favourite pieces from our current collection.

NATURE'S OWN CHAINSAW

We're connected to Steiff by more than just our Swabian homeland, as the traditional company from Giengen an der Brenz also shares our sense of value. We have developed a little friend together, and it features such outstanding quality that it will be a lifelong companion to kids and adults alike. Meet Tim Timber.

Why a beaver? Beavers are regarded as nature's own chainsaw thanks to their extraordinary ability to fell trees. How do they do it? They use their teeth! To fell a tree, they gnaw right through the trunk, about half a metre above ground level; they use their upper incisors to work on the bark, and their lower teeth for grating at the wood. In doing this, they make grooves around the trunk that make the tree into an hourglass shape. When a beaver fells trees, builds large dams, and dams small streams and lakes, it is creating a habitat not only for itself but also for many other animals and plants.

Beavers are extremely peaceful animals. They use their razor-sharp incisors only in absolutely exceptional circumstances, for example if their young are in danger. What's more, they are wholly vegetarian and don't eat meat at all. Unfortunately the native beaver is rather endangered, with reports suggesting there are only 25,000 left in Germany.

When it comes to standing up for this fascinating animal, we cannot imagine a better partner than Steiff. With its motto "Only the best is good enough for children", Steiff commits itself to the very highest standards of quality, safety, workmanship and material properties. Every Steiff animal is unique, and identifiable as such by the world-famous trademark: the "Button in Ear" - Tim Timber has one too. That isn't the only thing that makes him special, as he also features unmistakable little chainsaw-shaped teeth, printed with our logo.

Good to know: all toys from Steiff are 100% safe, and the company voluntarily surpasses statutory standards in this respect. The entire manufacturing process is in the hands of Margarete Steiff GmbH. Weaving is performed in the company's own fabric factory in Duisburg. Only the highest quality outer materials are used, which is why these true-to-life soft toys hardly lose any hair. When can Tim make a home with you?

STIEFF SOFT TOY STIHL BIBER TIM TIMBER

Hello there!

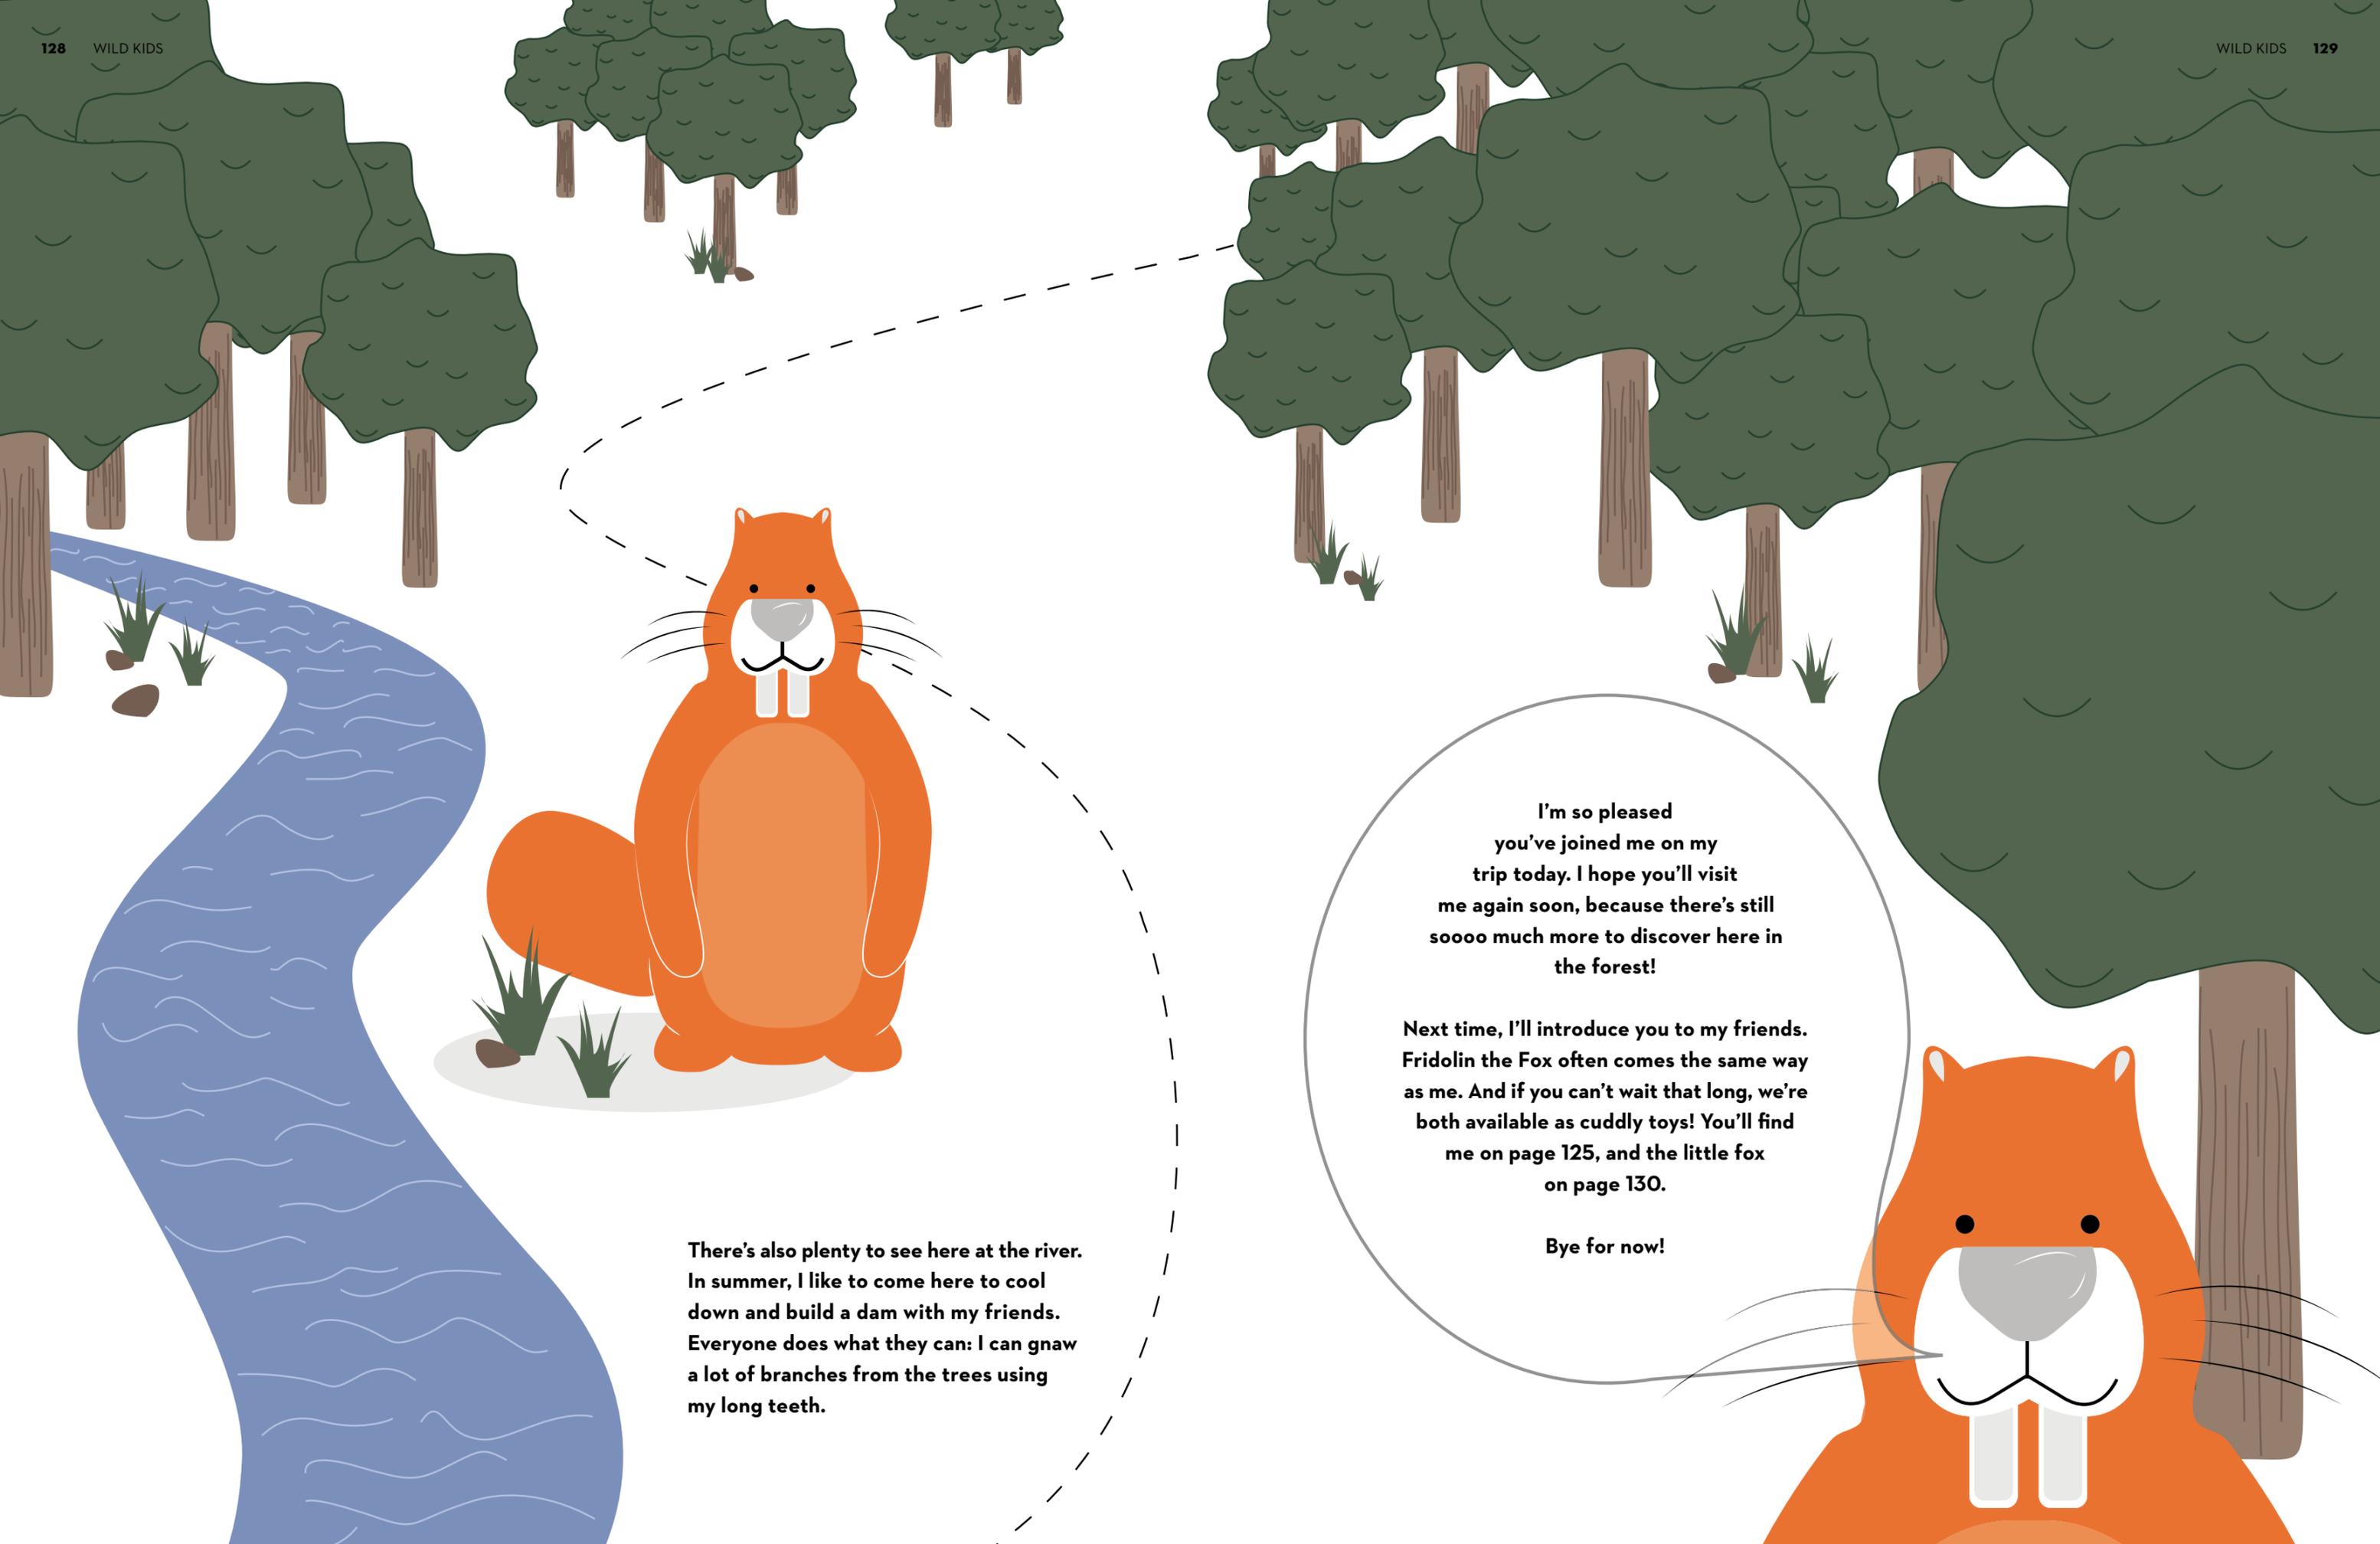

I'm Tim Timber. Will you come with me on my trip to the STIHL headquarters? We can go on exciting adventures together - there's so much to discover!

Here we go! I come here every day, and I really often meet hard-working people when I do. I'm always ready with my own chainsaw - my own set of gnashers. It's great that you humans can get help from STIHL!

By the way, did you know that you can tell how old a tree is by counting the rings inside its trunk? Let's count these together!

There's also plenty to see here at the river. In summer, I like to come here to cool down and build a dam with my friends. Everyone does what they can: I can gnaw a lot of branches from the trees using my long teeth.

I'm so pleased you've joined me on my trip today. I hope you'll visit me again soon, because there's still soooo much more to discover here in the forest!

Next time, I'll introduce you to my friends. Fridolin the Fox often comes the same way as me. And if you can't wait that long, we're both available as cuddly toys! You'll find me on page 125, and the little fox on page 130.

Bye for now!

OUTDOOR KUBB GAME

Kubb is a game that has been played for centuries. It is a game of skill, in which the objective is to use throwing sticks to first knock over each of the kubbs and then finally the king standing in the middle. Playing pieces made from FSC-certified pine wood.

Includes: 1 king, 10 kubbs, 6 throwing sticks, 4 markers in a carry bag

ORDER NUMBER
0464 927 0010

HOW TO KUBB

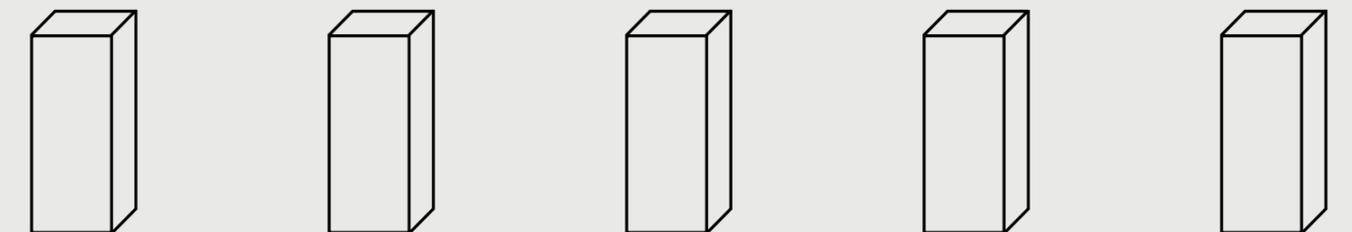

How to play kubb: First, form two teams. Each team receives 5 kubbs (skittles), regardless of the number of players per team. The king and its kubbs are positioned on the playing area; it's best to play on sand or grass, and the area should be about 8 m long and 5 m wide.

To start, each team member stands at the baseline and throws a throwing stick so it lands as close to the king as possible. But be careful: the king must not fall over, otherwise the round will be over in a flash. The team whose throwing stick lands closest to the king starts the next go.

Each team receives six throwing sticks per round of the game. Each player always starts at the baseline, which it's best to define at the beginning of the game. The goal is to hit the other team's five kubbs. Fallen kubbs are thrown into the other half of the court by the opposing team.

Once all the kubbs have fallen, the aim becomes to knock over the king with the throwing stick; if the king falls then, the team throwing the stick wins. However, if the king is knocked over before all kubbs have been fallen, the throwing team loses.

ROOTS & TREETOPS

PEOPLE

The world's tallest tree grows in California's Redwood National Park. This redwood is called Hyperion and is around 116 metres tall - that's about the same as 70 people stacked on top of one another.

1/3 WOODED AREA

Around a third of Germany's land is covered with forest, making it one of the most densely wooded countries in Europe.

One in five trees felled worldwide is further processed to become paper.

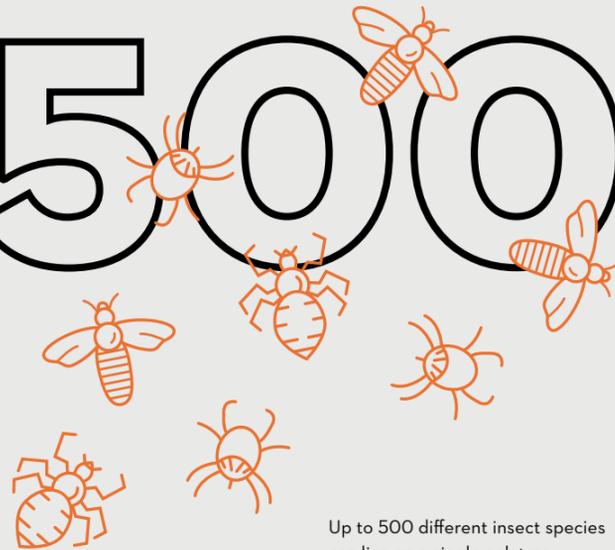

Around half of all land-dwelling animal and plant species worldwide live in forests, with most of those in tropical rainforests.

OF ALL ANIMAL AND PLANT SPECIES LIVE IN FORESTS

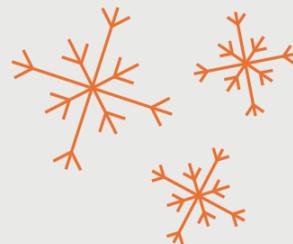

500

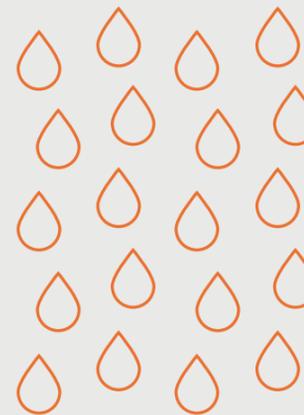

Up to 500 different insect species can live on a single oak tree.

-72 °C

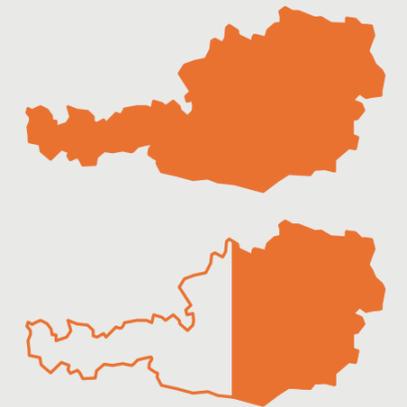

The world's hardest trees withstand temperatures down to minus 72 degrees Celsius.

The General Sherman Tree in the Sequoia National Park in California is 83.8 metres tall, and its trunk has a circumference of 31.12 metres. At 670 tonnes, it is the heaviest tree in the world, weighing the same as 17 fully loaded trucks.

When it rains, the forest floor absorbs rainwater like a sponge. That water is then filtered and purified as it travels through the layers of the forest floor. Eventually it reaches streams, springs, and groundwater as drinking water.

An area of wood equal to 35 football pitches is processed per minute. Each year, 130,000 square kilometres of forest is processed worldwide - that's one and half times the area of Austria.

In the mountains, forests are responsible for preventing avalanches, which is why they're also called protection forests. However, depending on the size of an avalanche, the protection provided by the forest alone may not be sufficient, so many other precautionary measures are also in place in mountainous areas.

Trees can of course not only be very heavy, but also have a very large circumference, like the Tree of Tule in Mexico. The trunk of this monster tree is 58 metres around - so it's no surprise it is also known as "El Gigante".

Dead wood is full of life.

Even fallen or dead trees still have a place, as the dead wood is an animal and plant habitat for many species, of insects and fungi for example. Woodpeckers also like to carve out hollows for their nests in dead trees. Their young find food in the dead wood.

NO TREE RINGS IN TROPICAL FORESTS

Rainforests grow in the tropics - in other words near the equator - which is why they may also be referred to as tropical forests. They are mainly made up of broad-leaved trees, which form no age rings in their trunks because the seasons never change. This also means that their growth is regular and consistent throughout the year.

A BADGE FOR YOUNG SCOUTS

Colourful badges are a key feature of scouts' outfits. They have a range of meanings: which group the scouts belong to, what they have achieved and which camps they've taken part in so far.

Collecting these badges is particularly popular among young scouts, as they not only prove good deeds, but also experience. These days there are even separate events and swaps where people busily exchange badges.

Our patches are inspired by typical scouts' badges, and they are very easy to fix to your clothes with thread.

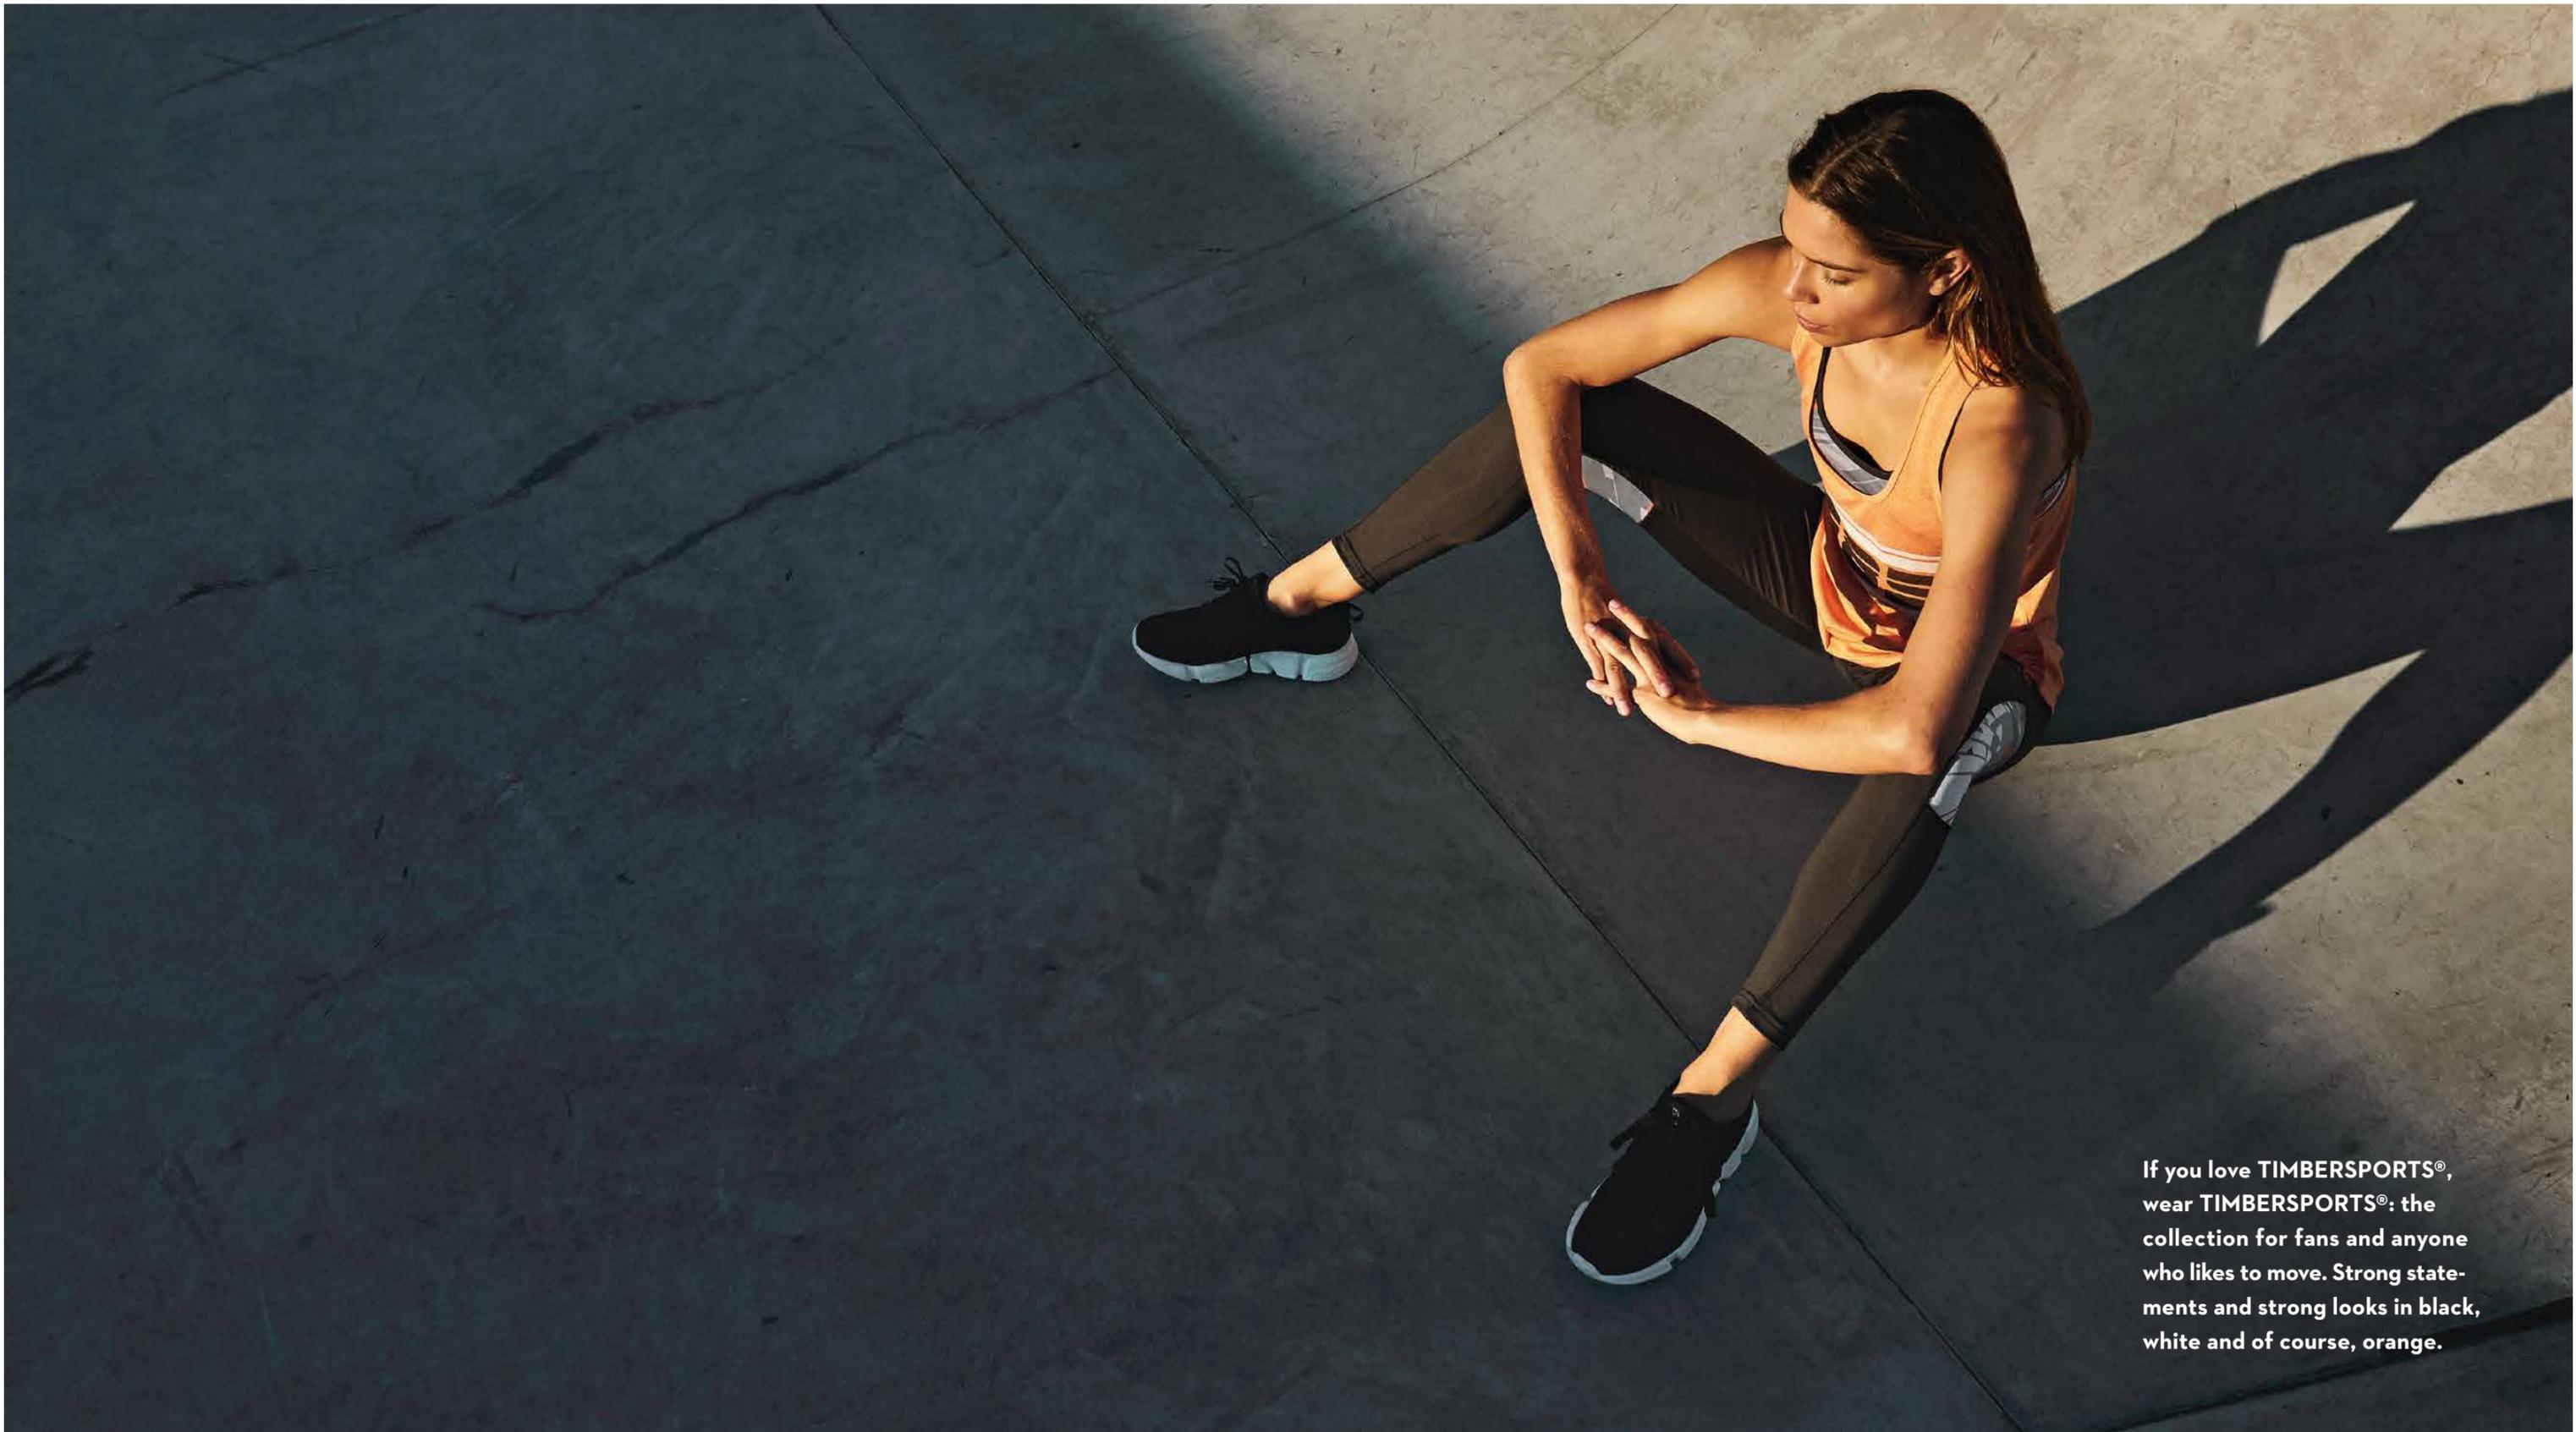

BADGE SET

This badge set is a must-have for budding scouts, as it can be used to customise and jazz up any item of clothing. Set of 3 embroidered badges with great motifs like "FUTURE LUMBERJACK", "ADVENTURE CAMP" and "CRAZY BEAVER".

GIVE IT EVERY- THING! —

STIHL goes extreme: razor-sharp axes and saws, splinters flying, thrilling duels. Battling man to man and woman to woman, all seeking to conquer the block and achieve the fastest time. To succeed requires power, technique and precision. STIHL TIMBERSPORTS® is extreme sport in its purest form, and attracts an ever-increasing crowd of captivated fans worldwide.

THE ORIGINAL EXTREME SPORT

The legend began over a hundred years ago. Today, STIHL TIMBERSPORTS® is the world's most important competition series in lumberjack sports. With 20 nations taking part, brawny athletes are pitted against each other in strenuous contests at national and international level.

This renowned sport has its roots on the other side of the world: as the 19th century was coming to a close, woodworkers in Australia and New Zealand found they still had more to give at the end of a working day, so they started to use their axes and saws in their free time too, taking on competitive challenges: Who is stronger? Who can fell the most trees in the shortest time?

The remote island of Tasmania - where even today barely more than half a million people live - was host to one of the first public competitions, back in 1891. Before long the sport was included as part of the Sydney Royal Easter Show, and the tradition continues to this day, with many thousands of spectators travelling for the unmissable spectacle. From distant Oceania, the passion for this sport spread across to Canada and the USA.

IF NOT US, WHO?

Of course, everything was rather improvised at the outset, though that soon changed, and around a dozen different sporting disciplines have developed over the years. We look back at the year 1985 with great pride: as one of the world's leading power tool manufacturers, we selected the six most spectacular disciplines, professionalised the competitions, and established the STIHL TIMBERSPORTS® Series.

These include a set of rules that is standardised worldwide, a global team of referees, international training camps and programmes to promote up-and-coming talent. What's more, the sport is as demanding as ever: competitors won't get anywhere without nerves of steel. All the disciplines require the athletes to be skilled in handling tools and wood as a material, and they won't get far without strength, endurance, and a precise technique.

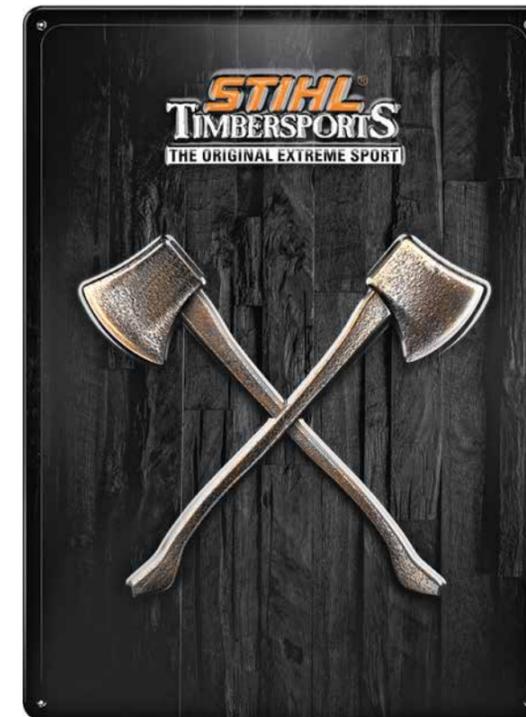

THE PREMIER LEAGUE OF LUMBERJACK SPORTS

STIHL TIMBERSPORTS® is considered the premier league of lumberjack sports: it is where the top athletes meet in competition, and the spectators and media interest it receives are unmatched.

Incidentally, all competitions are multi-event. Though athletes do compete in six disciplines in the traditional individual format, the Trophy format demands maximum strength endurance from the athletes as they take on four disciplines in quick succession. Rookie and team competitions are divided into four disciplines, and of course women also compete, in up to four disciplines.

Who takes the winning title? For individual and rookie competitions, a total is tallied up at the end: who has won the most points after all disciplines across all the rounds? It's not enough to be unbeaten in just one discipline. For team competitions and the Trophy, the teams and athletes fight their way through a knockout system to reach the final, where the winners are chosen.

Everyone wants to be the best in the world! Where better to find this out than at a World Championship? The two-day World Championship with its two- to three-hour individual and team competitions is, without question, the high point of the season. In 2019, over 100 athletes from more than 20 nations participated in Prague. 2019 nahmen in Prag über 100 Sportler aus mehr als 20 Nationen teil.

THE REIGNING INDIVIDUAL WORLD CHAMPION

Brayden Meyer from Australia battled his way to the Individual 2019 STIHL TIMBERSPORTS® world title in a phenomenal display of strength, power and precision at Industrial Palace, Prague. Performing in front of a raucous, sell-out crowd, Meyer held his nerve in a nail-biting Hot Saw competition to take home the title.

THE WORLD TROPHY: SPECTACULAR PERFORMANCE IN SPECTACULAR LOCATIONS

TIMBERSPORTS® has reinvented lumberjack sports: Alongside the World Championship in singles, the Trophy has become established as the second international competition format. Here, the best of the best from national and European qualifying competitions compete across four disciplines.

Glory is found in achieving the best times here - the superstars take less than a minute to cut four tree trunks in turn. And focus is important, because they also need to draw on endurance. It's with good reason that the Trophy is today regarded as the most challenging and dynamic sporting event.

The competition locations are also spectacular, with event venues in previous years including the Piazzale Michelangelo in Florence, the Old Port of Marseille, and a summit station in the Tyrolean Alps.

TIMBERSPORTS® 2020

Time to start looking forward to the TIMBERSPORTS® 2020 season! All the information you need about the national and international competitions can be found at stihl-timbersports.com. Training camp dates where you can use axes and saws to test your own talent can also be found there.

TIMBER

Anyone who's ever tried to fell a tree knows that you don't just get going with no preparation. We'll show you how to do it properly!

The root ball stays in the ground.

The roots are removed later.

ROOT BALLS & SAWING HEIGHT

If the root ball is to remain in the ground, saw the trunk off as close to the ground as possible. If you want to take the roots out as well, it's better to leave behind as long a section of trunk as you can, as this makes them easier to dig out later because of the added leverage.

MAKING A FELLING NOTCH

The notch incision determines which direction the tree will fall. Keep in mind that an angle of about 45 degrees is ideal, and the notch should not cut through more than a third of the trunk. First get to work at an angle, then horizontally.

SAWING THE FELLING CUT

Now, start making the felling cut from the opposite side. This cut should be around 5 cm above the horizontal felling notch. Then you're good to go!

REMOVING BRANCHES FROM THE TRUNK

Once you've felled the tree, the next step is to remove the branches at the top of the trunk, though the lower ones should be left in place because...

CHOPPING UP THE TRUNK

...that's the only way to keep the trunk at a comfortable height above the ground while chopping it up. After all, you don't want to saw into the ground when cutting through the trunk.

STIHL X BLACKROLL

BLACKROLL is on hand at TIMBERSPORTS® events for targeted fascia and physio support. Here, we show you how to use to use BLACKROLL to best effect for your workout. Our tip: Spend 30 to 60 seconds on each exercise

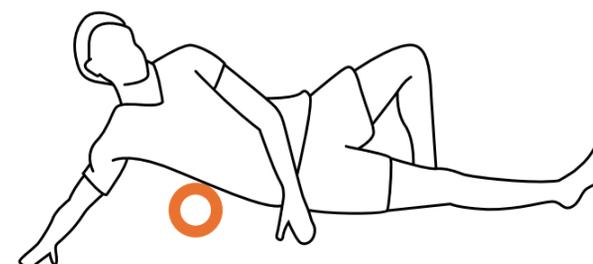

BLACKROLL coach Nico gives TIMBERSPORTS® athletes Robert Ebner (top) and Stirling Hart valuable training tips.

ROLLING OUT THE BACK OF THE THIGHS

Sit on the floor, and put the BLACKROLL under one of your thighs. Place both arms behind you for support and lift your hips. Now, try to roll back and forth evenly over the BLACKROLL using your whole thigh or lower leg. Then change sides and repeat the exercise. To make this exercise even more intensive, position one leg over the other.

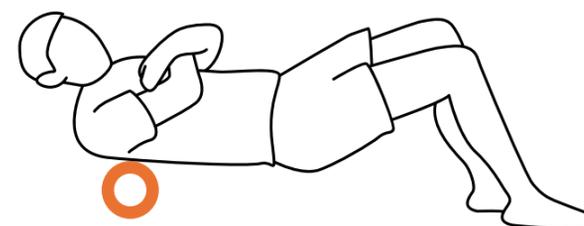

Massage for 30-60 seconds

ROLLING OUT THE LATISSIMUS

Lie on the BLACKROLL on your side, preferably supporting yourself on your upper arm. Now roll from your lower back, where your ribs start, to your armpit. For the best outcome, your body should remain stable throughout.

Massage for 30-60 seconds

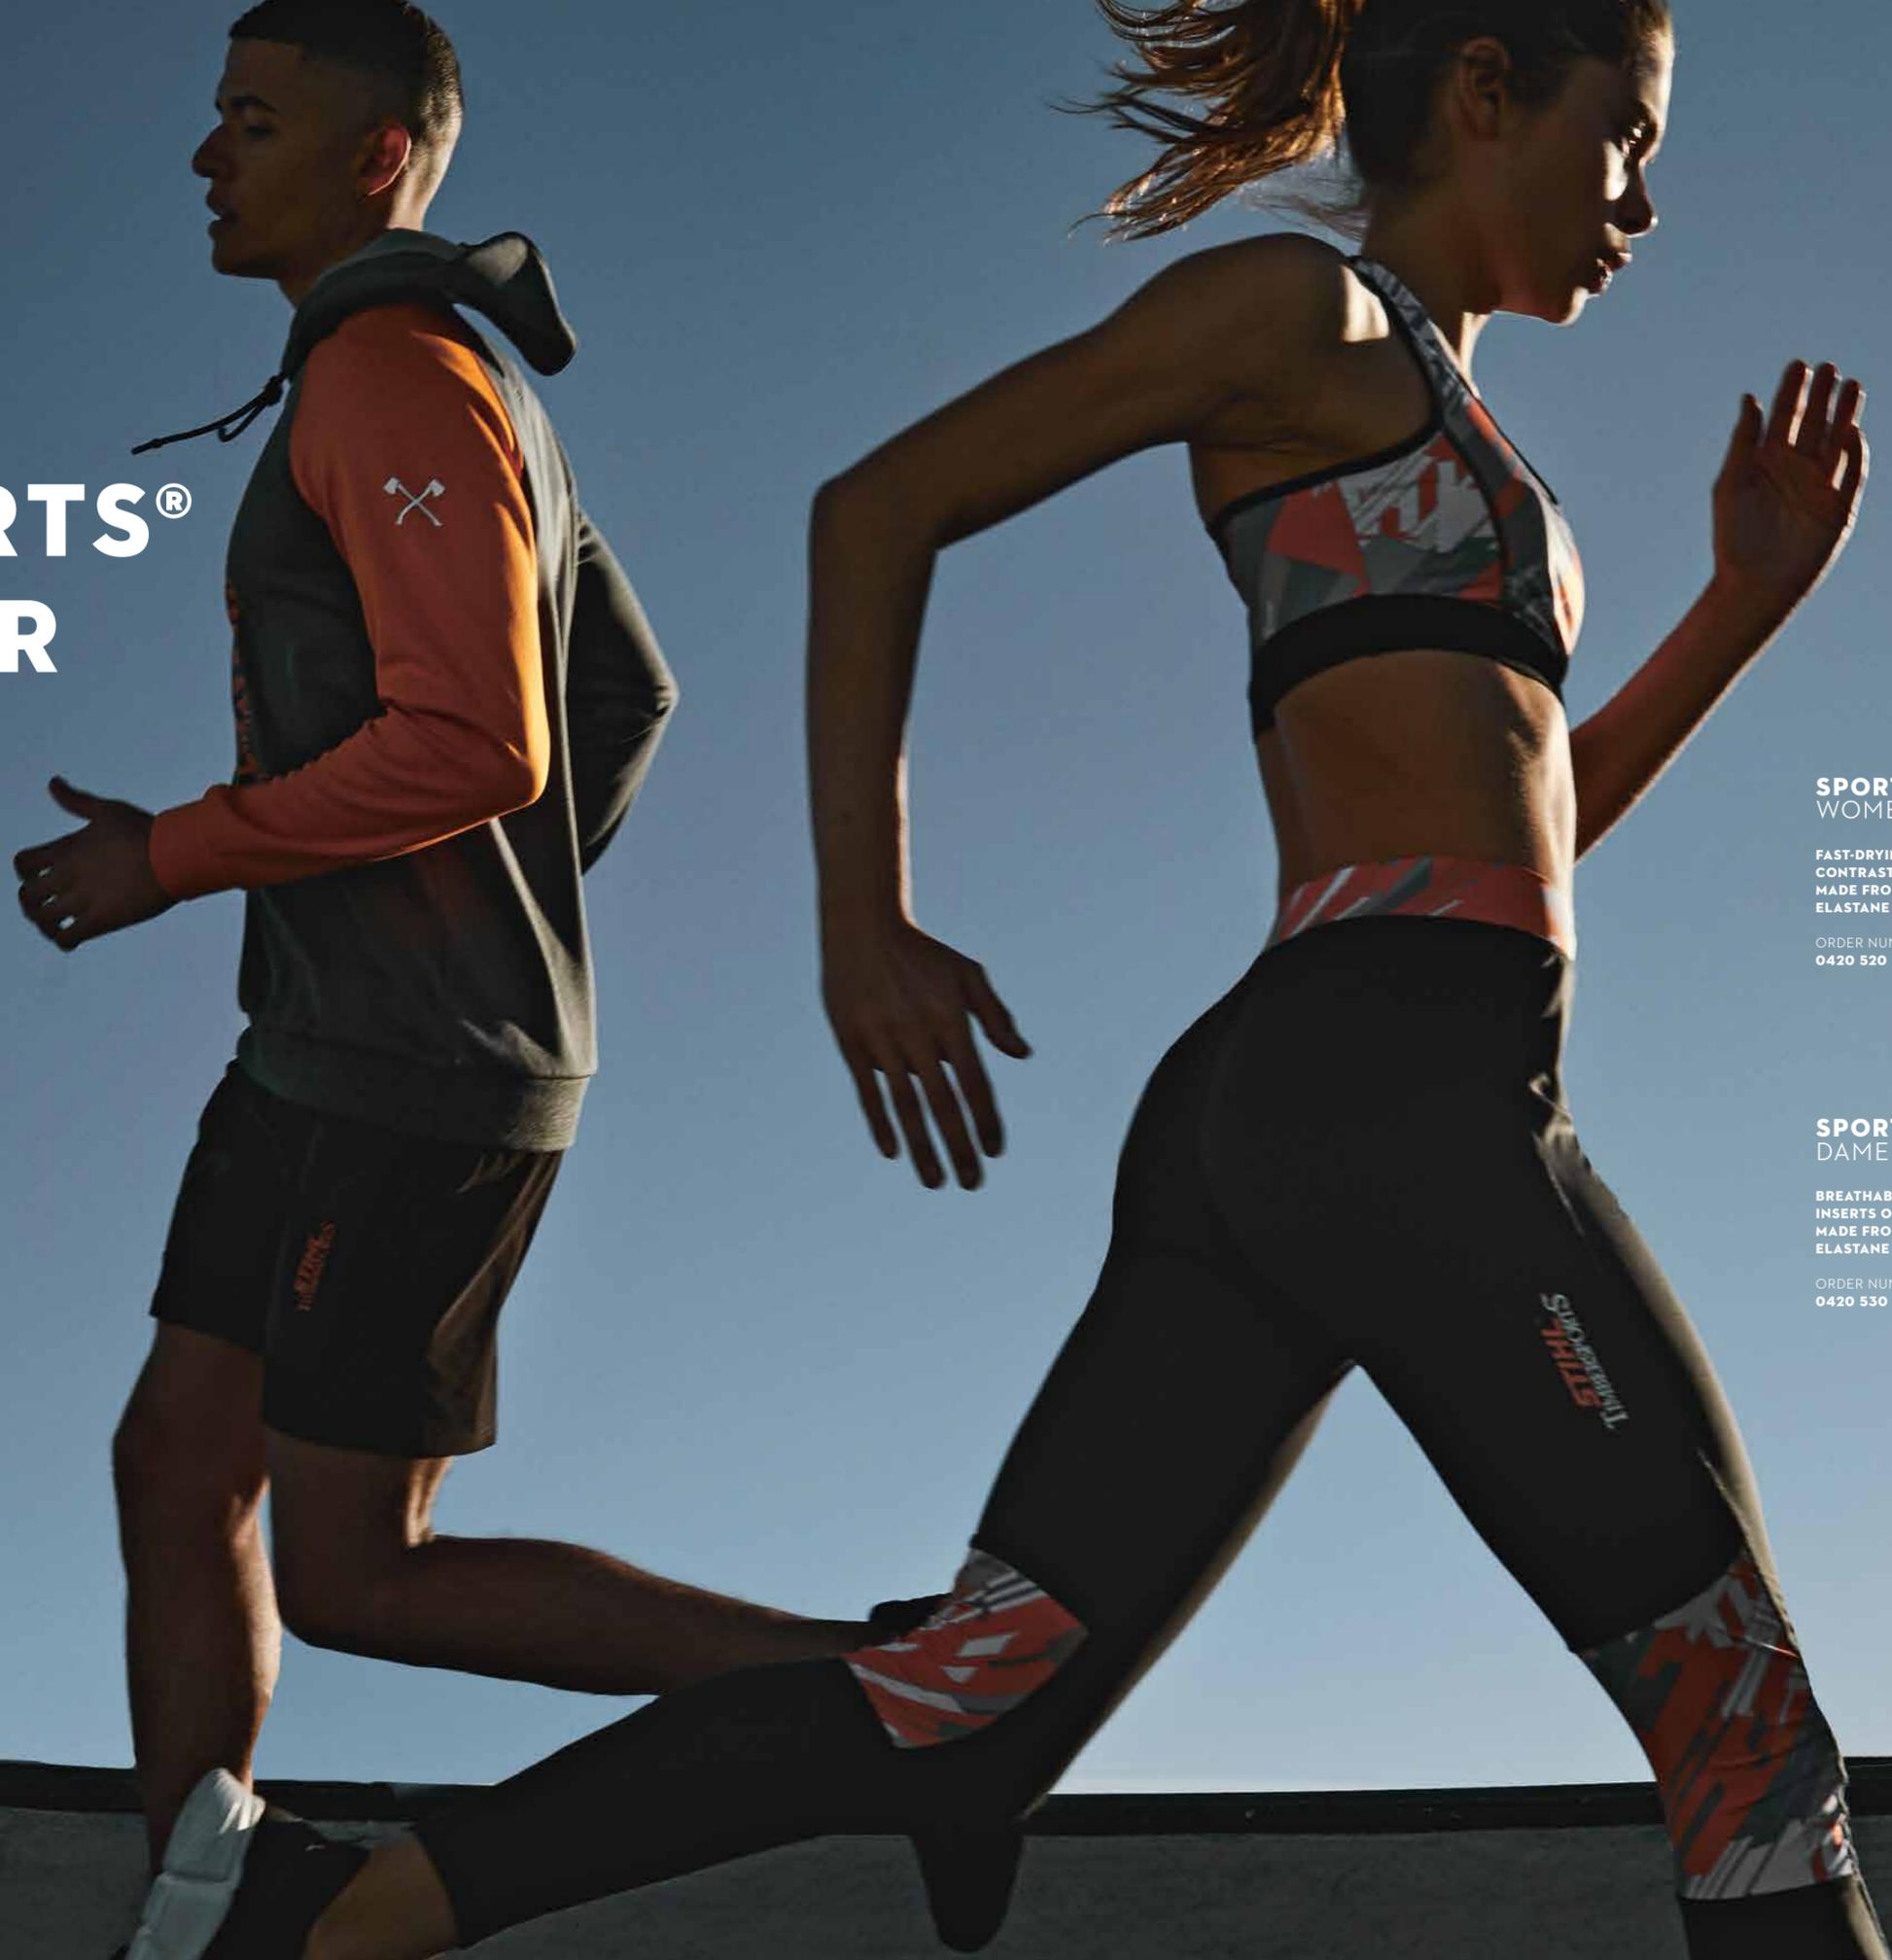

ROLLING OUT YOUR BACK - FROM TOP TO BOTTOM

For back massage, first sit yourself on the BLACKROLL. Then, placing your hands behind you for support, very slowly move your back over the BLACKROLL. Roll it from your coccyx over your lumbar spine and up to your shoulders. Keep your core tight to make this easier.

During this movement, you can either have your arms stretched out behind you or, as shown on the left, crossed over your chest.

Massage for 30-60 seconds

STATEMENT-PATCH & LABELS

The TIMBERSPORTS® message: KISS MY AXE! This cheeky statement and the trademark TIMBERSPORTS® crossed axes can be found on this collection's labels and patches, as a little indication of our love for detail.

The sporty pieces in the Collection feature these labels, hangtags and patches. Buttons and fasteners are made of metal, to a very high level of quality. Black and orange are the colours we use here, with accents of white. The labels combine sportiness and STIHL passion with a down-to-earth approach.
